IMPORTANT NOTICE

Dear Valued Customer:

Waste Management has been notified that a person representing himself as a Waste Management driver has been contacting our customers. We believe this person may be using the name John Russo. This individual claims to have access to retail items for sale at highly discounted prices. Based on customer reaction, a time and location is set up for the customer to bring cash in exchange for these discounted goods. The cash is taken, and no items are provided.

Please be on notice that Waste Management is investigating this matter. Waste Management does not authorize any person to use our company name in the manner, nor to engage in these types of activities. We respectfully suggest that our customers avoid participating in this scheme. If you receive a call from this person, or any person representing himself as a Waste Management employee that offers to engage in such a transaction, we ask that you please contact your local Waste Management sales representative to report the contact.

We thank you for your business.

Very truly yours,
Waste Management of Pennsylvania, Inc.
