The Dirty Little Secret of Lawn Care

February 24, 2022 @ 7pm via Zoom

Lawns should be a valuable planetary resource; they slow the pace of heavy rains and help prevent floods; they pump an almost unimaginable amount of oxygen into the air; they sequester a massive amount of carbon and slow the effects of climate change; and they're the last place you're allowed to roll your children around in public. But lawns become the enemy when unnecessary chemicals turn these huge benefits into an environmental nightmare. Be prepared to take notes when You Bet Your Garden host Mike McGrath reveals 'the Dirty Little Secret of Lawn Care'.
